"The Lion and the Mouse"

The United Play Co. in presenting "The Lion and the Mouse" in this city, calls attention to the fact that never in the history of the American stage was a play produced which attracted such world-wide attention as did this dramatic triumph of Charles Klein.

It has to do with a struggle for supremacy between a man trained in every artifice of the world, and a woman, using every expedient of feminine wile.

Many novelties in Christmas gifts at L. N. Pittman's, the 4th-st. jeweler, 110 E. 4th-st. 27-6c

MORE LOCAL OPTION VIOLATIONS ALLEGED

Charlie Byrd was arrested by the sheriff's department early yesterday evening charged with violating the local option law, and jailed pending preliminary hearing today. Four other persons were arrested in connection with Mr. Byrd charged with violating.

L. Dominguez, a Mexican, was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Burwell's men and jailed, charged with selling liquor in dry territory. The Mexican is held in jail pending preliminary hearing before Justice Darden. This makes a total of seven persons arrested and eleven cases growing out of alleged violation of the local option law in Potter County since November 16, 1911.

PICKENS HERE TO SPEND HOLIDAYS

E. J. Pickens, official court reporter for Judge Frank P. Greener, of the Thirty-First Judicial District, arrived in Amarillo yesterday from Miami and will spend the holidays in this city. The next term of the court for which Mr. Pickens is reporter will be convened January 8.

JUDGE BROWNING ON EXTENDED TRIP

Judge J. N. Browning left yesterday evening for Fort Worth. From that point he goes to Weatherford, where he will visit with his brother. On Monday Judge Browning goes to Dallas, and thence to Austin, returning to Belton, where he will spend a few days with his daughters. It is probable that Judge Browning will be absent from Amarillo for a week or ten days.

While the visit into the central portion of the state is largely for the purpose of visiting with relatives, Judge Browning will look over the political field with an eye single to the outlook for his candidacy for a place as congressman at large.

COMMISSIONER KONE WILL SPEAK TODAY

Ed R. Kone, commissioner of agriculture for Texas, will be in Amarillo this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to address a meeting of farmers and business men in the district court room, on matters of interest pertaining to developing the agricultural resources of this section of the state.

This meeting is considered one of the most important ever held in the Panhandle, and there are a number of men interested in farming and the general advancement of this section of the state, who are using their utmost endeavors to get out a representative gathering.

The meeting will begin promptly at the hour named, for Mr. Kone has a number of other dates that must be made, and to delay the beginning of the session in this city would be to handicap these latter engagements.

Every man in the city and county is invited to attend.

GOLDEN ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY CLERK

W. W. Golden, who makes formal announcement in another column of this issue of The Daily News of his candidacy for the office of County Clerk, has been a resident of Amarillo for the past four years and is known to practically the entire citizenship of the county. In announcing for this office Mr. Golden does so with assurance of support from many friends.

No one who knows Mr. Golden could question his fitness and qualifications for the place to which he aspires. His long experience in office work and practical details of systematized business has given him just the practice essential to the proper handling of the records of the county.

Since his arrival in this city Mr. Golden has been engaged with the Nobles Brothers, Wholesale Grocers. He came to Amarillo from Pannin County, having lived at Trenton, Texas. The candidacy of Mr. Golden is dependent upon the Democratic primary.

F. D. C. MEETING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

The Will A. Miller Chapter F. D. C. held a most interesting session Thursday afternoon at the home of the president Mrs. J. B. Beard.

A large number of the members were present. After the routine business Mrs. Ernest Miller read a paper on the fall of New Orleans. It was well thought out and enjoyed by those present. Mrs. J. W. Rush read a well prepared paper on General Joseph E. Johnston; this was followed by several short talks.

Mrs. Jeter read a chapter on "Life in the South before the war" by Thomas Nelson Page. This number elicited much applause.

Mrs. Jeter, Mrs. J. W. Rush and Mrs. Miller were asked to repeat their papers for the pleasure of the old soldiers at the next meeting of the camp Sunday, December 10.

Mrs. R. W. Morgan repeated the request her story of "an old pair of scissors." This was given for the Veterans last Sunday and will not therefore be repeated. The story was illustrated with an old pair of scissors that were used to cut clothes for the soldiers from 1861 until there was no more material to cut, except what was woven at home. They were used constantly for more than forty-five years by Mrs. Morgan's mother.

Many plans were discussed by the ladies for the advancement of the chapter. It was decided that a box of dainty things will be sent to the old ladies at the Women's Confederate home in Austin for a Christmas remembrance. They also planned to keep open house the first Thursday in January for the Veterans and their wives, hour and place to be determined later.

MIDLAND BUILDING ROADS IN ADJOINING COUNTIES

Midland, Tex., Dec. 8.—For the first time in the history of good road building one county is going outside its own confines and build in good roads in adjoining counties. Midland will next week begin the construction of roads in both Andrews and Gaines counties in order to show their neighbors in these two counties how to construct model highways and to educate them to the great advantages both in time and money which accrue from the construction of modern first-class roads the citizens of Midland have arranged to build at once sample stretches of several miles of strictly first-class roads in both of these adjoining counties.

Having decided to assist their neighbors the Midland people determined that nothing was too good for them and have therefore secured the service of a Good Roads engineer attached to the U. S. Government, who will be in Midland next Monday. He will immediately take a large force of workmen and all the necessary machinery to Gaines and Andrews counties and begin the work.

The county commissioners of the two counties will be on hand and select the places where they want the model roads located. The entire cost of the work is paid for by the city of Midland.

This action is sure to give a great impetus to the building of good roads not only in the counties of Gaines and Andrews but all over West Texas. As an illustration of public spirit and progressiveness this action on the part of Midland is, so far as known, without parallel.

Amusements

"The Lion and the Mouse"

While the third act of "The Lion and the Mouse" which is to be acted at the Grand next week by the United Play Company's strongest company, is generally regarded as the most powerful epoch in the play; there are many who express partiality for the second act in which Shirley Rosemore meets "the lion of finance," and from his own lips receives the information that her father is to be disgraced in reputation and depleted in purse. There is a sharp interchange of wit in this act between the man who has been accustomed to everybody do his bidding and the mere slip of a girl who dares oppose him.

Seats are now on sale for the engagement of "The Lion and the Mouse," which returns December 11 to its second visit. It will be among the first offerings of importance this season and judged by the measure of approval with which it has hitherto been received in this city its reception will be cordial. "The Lion and the Mouse" has enjoyed a really wonderful run of popularity and it is safe to say that every playgoer who has seen it will agree that it is entitled to the favor it has been shown.
